POPULATION OF LONDON NOW SEVEN AND A HALF MILLIONS

LONDON—The London county council have just published the London statistics for 1908-9, and they give a good idea of the vastness of London, its population as well as their occupation. The present population of London is estimated at 7,537,196, of whom 4339 are councilors or guardians, 18,000 are policemen, 551 are magistrates, 664,294 are parliamentary electors, 43,698 are old-age pensioners.

The area of greater London is 443,419 acres, and it possesses 991,383 houses, 2151 miles of streets, 127 miles of tramways, 700 miles of omnibus routes, 15,848 acres of open spaces and parks.

The following figures give some idea of its enormous wealth: Ratable value, $221,618,520; imports for the year $1,048,362,810; exports for the year $373,841,190.

The following articles of food were also imported:

Butter (cwt.)	1,350,807
Wheat (cwt.)	17,344,600
Eggs (great hundreds)	5,647,882
Rabbits	429,980
Condensed milk (cwt.)	433,870
Bananas (bunches)	943,421
Oranges (cwt.)	1,854,964
Onions (hushels)	1,623,803
Potatoes (cwt.)	1,183,567
Rice (cwt.)	2,888,287
Currents (cwt.)	417,196
Dates (cwt.)	305,136
Grapes (cwt.)	281,757
Tea (lbs.)	310,224,187
Wine (gallons)	7,434,799
Raisins (cwt.)	358,282
Lemons (cwt.)	451,314
Lard (cwt.)	353,360
Pickles (gals.)	1,430,363
Tomatoes (cwt.)	1,465,557
Cheese (cwt.)	1,093,958

These imports amounted to 32.4 per cent of the total imports of the United Kingdom and were carried to the Thames in 22,531 ships. The following was consumed in London during the year: 449,730 tons of meat, 193,820 tons of fish, 534,091 cattle and sheep.

Among other articles imported during the year were canes and sticks 40,005,220, curries to the value of $953,965, matches (gross boxes) 4,572,788, lamp oils (gallons) 65,052,987, furs $5,436,975, sheep's wool (pounds) 486,481, 782.

The amount of water daily consumed was 219,040,000 gallons, while for fuel and light the following was consumed: Coal (tons) 6,572,857, gas (thousand cubic feet) 43,000,000, electricity (units) 85,615,474.

The number of trains run into London on an ordinary week-day is 8556, and 9,743,669 persons traveled into inner London from suburban stations in one month. The number of people carried by the railway, tramways and omnibuses during the year was 1,221,453,458.

The number of letters despatched during the year was 922,800,000 and the number of telegrams 24,947,000. The public swimming baths were visited by 3,732,833 people and 6,934,097 books were borrowed from the public libraries by 251,608 persons.

Of the 85,000,000 people in the United States only 33,000,000 are affiliated with the Church. Of this total 61.6 per cent are identified with Protestant denominations.

The total value of all the church property in the United States is in excess of $1,270,000,000, being in the proportion of $940,000,000 for the Protestant bodies, $300,000,000 for the Roman Catholic Church and $30,000,000 for all the remaining bodies.

YOU cannot afford to take any unnecessary risk with your hard-earned savings. During these prosperous times the temptation to invest in some form of speculation is very great. The shrewd investor does not put his money into every scheme presented which promises large returns; rather, he is satisfied with absolute security for both principal and interest such as is afforded by this strong bank. Interest on Savings Accounts Four and One-Half Per Cent.

A Man Worth

Looking At Twice

LONDON, by common consent of the civilized world, for generations has been the Mecca for Men's styles in clothes. To describe a suit as English was to give it a character—a letter of introduction. A man who was known to have his clothes made in London was a man worth looking at twice.

This attitude has not changed. London is still the dictator—but today Londoners are wearing American clothes, made in America by Stein-Block.

This is a revolution in methods, but not in taste. It only indicates that the Englishman has been quick to recognize the decisive superiority of Stein-Block clothes in distinction of style and ease of fit.

They have obtained at last what they have long been seeking—clothes at reasonable prices, ready for immediate service and deeply imbued with the thoroughbred character that well dressed Englishmen demand.

These Stein-Block clothes are at YOUR disposal—ready to be examined and tried on before the glass of the best clothier in Honolulu. Come in and try them on.
